MEMBERS OF THE MOOSE LODGE put in a busy week doing a clean-up, paint-up job on the Moose Hall last week. The men worked in the evenings to refurbish their meeting place.

School Elections Saturday, April 11

Lively races have developed in most of the school board elections to be held Saturday, April 11, in school board districts in and around Antioch.

At Antioch Community High School, there are four candidates for the two full terms. Incumbents William Brook and Roger Prossie are both running for re-election. James Palm, Antioch, and Dorothy C. Sherwood, Lake Villa, are also candidates. Helen Kopriwa is running for the one-year term remaining of the office left vacant by the death of Lorraine Cheetham, with Sven G. Osterlund also seeking the one-year term.

At the Antioch Grade School, there are four candidates for the two seats on the board — incumbents Frank Feiler and Wesley Camp, and Oliver Hunt and Joan Toft.

At Grass Lake School, three candidates have filed for the two offices—Charles Smith, incumbent, Porter Larson and Thomas Steiskal. Channel Lake School is the only one where there is no contest in the school board election. The two incumbents, Gladys Zobus and Elmer Melerdirk, are running for re-election without opposition.

Emmons School, with a three-man board, will caucus for candidates at noon next Saturday when the polls open.

Voting will be at the respective schools next Saturday, with the polls open from noon till 7 p.m.

Voters Asked To Hear Case On Tax Raise

Voters of the Channel Lake School District are being asked to turn out in force next Wednesday night to hear an informative program on the necessity for a raise in the educational tax of the school.

Principal Howard Scott will conduct the program at the meeting of the PTA of the school on April 14.

The small turn-out of voters at the first referendum on the proposition, held Jan. 25, and scanty attendance at pre-referendum meetings held to inform the voters of the need for more money, have convinced the Board of Education and Principal Scott that the voters of the district are not aware of the facts of the case.

A referendum on January 25, asking for a 20c raise in the educational tax rate of the school, was turned down by a vote of 93-55. This represented a small percentage of the eligible voters in the district. Judges commented that a large number of retired persons voted, and a small percentage of parents of children who attend the school.

At Wednesday night's meeting, a full explanation of the need for more money will be given, and questions from the audience answered.

The school board has set May 2 as the date for a referendum asking for a 20c raise in the educational tax. After the meeting, there will be a tour of the renovated school library.

Meeting For Blind Next Sunday

White canes and guide dogs will prevail when about 20 blind persons will have their meeting at the American Legion Shavin Post hall, 717 17th St., North Chicago.

The meeting will be held on Sunday, April 12, at 2 p.m. All blind people in Lake County are cordially invited to attend. Any sighted persons who are interested are also invited.

A.G.S. Band To Play For Governor

The Antioch Grade School Band was invited to play a concert for Governor Kerner on June 3, 1964. The band will leave Antioch on June 2 and visit New Salem Park and the Lincoln Tomb.

Arrangements are now being made by Mr. Oliver Hunt, who is president of the A.G.S. Band Parent Association. The band will stay at the Holiday Inn in Springfield.

Mr. George Olisar, the band director, considers this quite an honor for our young people and feels that the trip to Springfield and Salem Village will be of considerable interest.

Ron Riley To Be At Record Hop

A record hop will be held at the Antioch Community High School this Friday, April 10, from 8 to 11:30, at which the feature attraction will be Ron Riley, WLS disc jockey, and the Princeton Five.

The dance is sponsored by the Freshman class.

Reorganize Voter's Group

By Mrs. Bernice Bernau
Approximately fifty persons attended a meeting Sunday, April 5, of the reorganized Lindenhurst Citizen's Party, held at the home of John Slove, 2307 E. Sunset Lane.

James Mazer was unanimously elected chairman of the party. He has been a resident of the village about three years.

The other officers elected at the first meeting on March 15 are co-chairman, Mrs. Floyd Stanley; Frank Paterno, treasurer; Mrs. Frances Prohaska, secretary.

Warren Frontzak was appointed sergeant-at-arms; also appointed were Mrs. Warren Flint and Mrs. Raymond Verdieck, co-chairmen of publicity.

Donald Tuttle is chairman of the nominating committee, and Mrs. Warren Frontzak, chairman of the refreshment committee.

The next meeting will be held Sunday, May 3, at the B. J. Hooper School on Sand Lake and Beck Roads, at 4 p.m.

They urge every resident who believes there is room for improvement in the government to attend.

Lions Bridge Match Nearing Final Round

The Lions Club Bridge Tournament is coming down to the wire with the semi-final matches to be played next week.

In this week's matches, the team of Charlotte Queen and Mildred Gaston won their match with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilton. Ruth Pickus and Florence Eckert (Mrs. Eckert played as an alternate for Mrs. Jerome Vogler, whose husband was injured in an automobile accident) defeated Mr. and Mrs. Alan Thain. Next week, Mrs. Queen and Mrs. Gaston will play Mrs. Pickus and Mrs. Vogler to determine the team going into the final match.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dupre defeated Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ripley and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Eberman won their match with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Solar. Mr. and Mrs. Dupre will compete with Mr. and Mrs. Eberman next week. The winner of this match will then play the winner of the Gaston, Queen-Pickus, Vogler match.

The final game will be played in a public place where the spectators can be accommodated.

In the consolation bracket, the Olson-Peterson vs. Ryan-Herbert match has not yet been played. The DeBoers defeated the Osmonds; the Brook-Murrie team beat the Vos-Renschler team, and the Luebman vs. Jacobsen match has not been played.

Alaskan Quake Disturbs Wells In States

Water well contractors' meeting at Peoria, at the Illinois Water Well Drillers' Association Convention, reported that they have been receiving frantic phone calls from well owners whose wells have suddenly produced "black" or "dirty" water since the big Alaskan earthquake last Friday. Shallow wells, deep wells, wells in sand and gravel, wells in sandstone, wells in limestone—wells of all kinds have been reported as affected.

Representatives of the Illinois State Water Survey reported that their recorder on a limestone well at Naperville showed a large fluctuation of the water level at the time of the earthquake. The DuPage River near Naperville showed a minor fluctuation on a river stage recorder.

One contractor reported that a good producing sand and gravel well suddenly started pumping sand. A deep sandstone well in the Chicago area also started producing sand.

Drilling contractors from adjacent states attending the meeting also reported that wells were affected in their areas. Further information will probably show that all areas of the country were affected.

It has long been known that water level recorders have shown fluctuations related to earthquake activity, even of minor tremors. Earthquakes on the opposite side of the world have been recorded in this manner.

Students Observe National FHA Week

April 5th to 11th is National F.H.A. Week, and the local chapter at Antioch Community High School has planned several activities for the week.

FHA members will be wearing red and white colors all week. A display case is set up in the home economics department by FHA members and their sponsor, Mrs. Arlene Molinarola.

An FHA meeting and pizza party is planned for Thursday afternoon at the school. FHA members will present a red rose to each faculty member of the High School on Friday.

Tuesday's Primary Election Will Be An Important One

Voters will go to the polls next Tuesday, to decide who shall be their party's candidates for various state and county offices in the November election.

Precinct committeemen, however, will be elected on Tuesday.

The polls will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. The polling place for Precinct 1 is the old Village Hall. On the Republican ballot, a three-way race for Precinct Committeeman will be decided Tuesday. Candidates are the incumbent, Herman Holbek, opposed by Herbert Horton and William Horton, Route 173, of Bill's Welding & Steel Sales.

On the Democratic ballot for Precinct 1, Charles Cermak, the incumbent, is opposed by James Stewart of Rte. 4, Box 20.

Precinct 2 will vote at the Fire Station in Antioch. On the Republican ballot, Bernard Osmond is unopposed for committeeman. On the Democratic ballot, William "Mark" Turner, the incumbent, is opposed by R. F. Holden, Ida Avenue.

Precinct 3 votes at the Lotus School. Gilbert Meisler, the Republican candidate for Precinct Committeeman, is unopposed. Also unopposed is Albert Coffey, the Democratic candidate.

Precinct 4, voting at the Grass Lake Scout House, has no race on either the Democratic or Republican ballot for Precinct Committeeman. Helen Burke, the incumbent, is the Republican candidate; Lester Hribar, incumbent, is the Democratic candidate.

Precinct 5 votes at the Channel Lake School. Henry Palm, the Republican incumbent, is not running for re-election, because of ill health. Elmer Eberman is unopposed as Republican candidate for the precinct office.

On the Democratic slate in Precinct 5, John Matejka, the incumbent, is opposed by Sylvia Peydich and Don Hartman, owner of the Four Aces.

Precinct 6 votes at Emmons School. "Bud" Holtz is unopposed on the Republican slate for precinct committeeman.

On the Democratic slate, incumbent Rose Plechaty is opposed by Francis Schmidt, Felter's Subdivision.

Democrats will have a comparatively easy time of it when it comes to marking their ballots, with only one candidate for most of the state offices on their ballot. Only President Lyndon B. Johnson is listed on the Democratic ballot for President of the United States.

Barry Goldwater and Margaret Chase Smith are on the Republican ballot for President of the United States, and politicians will be watching to see if a write-in vote for either Richard Nixon or Henry Cabot Lodge develops any strength.

With five Republican candidates for governor, Charles Percy and William Scott are the leading contenders. There has been much local support in the Antioch area for Percy's candidacy.

Of the county offices, probably the greatest local interest has developed for Republican nomination for the office of coroner. Orville (Pat) Clavey, supported by Sheriff Charles Larson, is making a determined bid for the office against the incumbent Robert Babcox.

State's Attorney Bruno Stanczak is getting considerable opposition from Deerfield attorney Paul E. Hamer.

State Senator Robert Coulson is being opposed by Round Lake Mayor Douglas MacGillis for the Republican nomination for state senator.

In addition to the national, state and county offices to be voted on Tuesday, voters will have to select delegates to the state convention for the nomination of state representatives. The delegates will choose the men whose names will appear on the ballot in November for the at-large election of state representatives.

Sample Democratic and Republican ballots are printed elsewhere in the paper.

Horse Show To Benefit Hospital

Six matched Shetland ponies pulling a miniature antique fire engine will be one of the feature attractions at the first annual Countryside Hospital Benefit Horse Show May 30 and 31 at the Lake County Fairgrounds.

General Chairman John Romer of Lake Villa reported that the nationally known Victor Comptometer Corp. six-pony "fire engine" hitch will appear at both matinee and evening performances.

Besides the Victor pony attraction and other individual acts the show will offer competition for some of the nation's outstanding horse flesh in such classes as fine harness, three gaited, five gaited, equitation and horse events, English pleasure, walking horses, Morgans, hunters and jumpers, roadsters and three gaited ponies.

All proceeds will go to build a 55 bed hospital on Grand Avenue west of Lake Villa to serve a four township area in West Lake county.

Romer said tickets are on sale from members of the hospital association or they may be obtained by writing

G. D. O. Wiggins, Chicago Ford district sales manager, said 300-500 Club membership awards are presented for excellent retail performance of outstanding Ford salesmen throughout the country.

The men are: Raymond Bruhn, Karl Domnick and Ken Gilbanks.

Town Budget Up

The budget for the Township of Antioch for the next year was approved by the Town Board at the meeting Tuesday, April 7, at the village hall.

Next year's budget is about $40,000.00 more than last year's, according to Laurel Van Patten, Jr., Town Clerk. Expenses are up about $10,000.00 for the town fund, poor fund up about $20,000 and expenses of the assessor's office are higher.

Local Man Dies

Frank X. Hennig, Lake Ave., Channel Lake, died Sunday, April 5, after a long illness.

The funeral was held Wednesday, April 8, in Chicago.

Mr. Hennig had been a resident of Channel Lake for several years, having moved here from Chicago. He is survived by his widow, Olga, a son and two daughters.

Local Artists Winners At Art Show

The Lake County Town and Country Art Show held last week at the Lake County Fairgrounds drew a total of 520 paintings and other art entries.

The show included entries by grade school and high school students and adults. Judge of the show, Elizabeth Rupprecht of Chicago, awarded 25 blue ribbons to the junior exhibitors and 71 to the adult and high school age exhibitors.

The 71 winners in the high school and adult division are eligible to show their entries in the district Town and Country Art Show at Northern Illinois University at DeKalb. Winners at the district show will be eligible to compete at the Illinois State Town and Country Art Show at the University of Illinois in August.

Local winners at the show included Ellen McDowall, Rt. 2, Antioch, with an oil, "Memories of a City Park," also a watercolor, "Embryo in the Arboretum"; John G. Shore of Lake Villa, India Ink drawing, "Lea Anderson, Lake Villa, a tempera, "Mira Terra Nova"; A. H. Nordling, Lake Villa, an oil, "Stroll in the Moonlight"; Mike Gross, Rt. 5, Box 422, Antioch, untitled oil; Claire Gilday, Rt. 1, Box 512, Antioch, oil, "The Old Kenosha Lighthouse"; Dolores M. Chelir, Lake Villa, oil, "Swamp".

Note received by a Congressman from a man in his district: "Please don't improve my lot in life any further. I can't afford it."

CONGRESSMAN ROBERT McCLORY (left) is pictured inviting U. S. Senator Peter Dominick (R-Colo.) to address the annual dinner of the Lake County Republican Federation to be held on May 3 at the Waukegan Inn. Dominick has accepted and will be introduced by McClory.

Dupre New Civil Defense Director

John Dupre was approved by the village board as new Director of Civil Defense for Antioch at the meeting of the village board Tuesday night, April 7.

Mr. Dupre was sworn in to the office by the Village Clerk, Clarence Shultis. He replaces John Moran, who resigned from the position recently.

Representatives of the Antioch Community High School Board, and property owners adjacent to the High School on the south, were present at the board meeting to discuss the installation of an alley on the south side of the school. The matter has been under consideration for some time. The village and high school are to cooperate in installing the alley.

Dr. Richard Ripley and Milburn Cain represented the High School board. They said the board is desirous of seeing the alley installed. Property owners Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Randall, Laundromat owners; George Koppa, motel owner, and Bruno Manzardo, owner of the Servicenter, were present. The only objection to the alley was voiced by Manzardo. The matter was referred to the street committee, who were instructed to consult with High School officials and property owners and to report to the board at the continuation of the recessed meeting on April 28.

Bids were received on the village liability insurance and turned over to the insurance committee for a report on April 28.

David Nissen, trustee, presented a drawing of a proposed bronze plaque to be installed on the new Village Hall. The board approved the drawing and instructed Mr. Nissen to proceed to have the plaque made.

Lieutenant Stephen Rzyso resigned from the Antioch Police force. The reason given was that he wished to work at Charn-Glo where he would receive a better salary. His resignation was accepted and the board will hire a man to take his place.

Laursen and Blackman presented a plat to the Village Board for the installation of village water mains to the property of Mrs. Albert Herman on North Ave. The matter was turned over to village engineer Frank Angelotti, who is to report to the board at the next meeting.

The board recessed, to meet again on April 28.

Anyone interested in any phase of theatre work is invited to the meeting, scheduled for 7 p.m.

What ever happened to that wonderful type of woman who couldn't stand a man underfoot when she was doing housework?

Girl Scouts to Deliver Cookies

Those Girl Scouts who took your orders for cookies will be delivering them from April 10 to April 24.

In case you missed the chance to order cookies, the Cadette Scouts of Troop 287 will be making a sales booth at the State Bank of Antioch this Friday and Saturday, April 10 and 11, during banking hours.

Wanted: Informed Voters

Lake County voters will be called on to go to the polls twice in this next week—Saturday, April 11, to vote for members of the Board of Education at their local elementary and high schools, and on Tuesday, April 14, to vote in the primary election.

It's a foregone conclusion that only a small percentage of the eligible voters will bother to cast a vote in either election. If it's a nice day, there may be a fairly respectable turnout at the polls for either or both elections. If it's stormy, the number of voters will drop considerably.

It would be funny, if it weren't tragic, to realize that parents will allow their child's education—and thus his future life—to be determined by the parent's dislike for risking getting wet.

There are other reasons, just as good, for neglecting to vote in school board elections, of course. The man of the family may be doing a spring clean-up job, or watching a sports event on TV. The lady of the household may also be doing some spring cleaning, or maybe there's a sale she can't afford to miss.

Nobody's going to mind if you show up to vote in overalls, with paint in your hair. They'll probably respect you more for making an extra effort, busy as you are.

Because who is elected to the school board will determine, to a great extent, your child's life for the next year. The school board hires the principal of your school, and says who his teacher shall be. It can decide what books he studies. It decides how much money will be spent on your child's education, and how it shall be spent. It decides what kind of surroundings he shall study in, and, to some extent, what he shall study.

If you have no preference among the candidates, it's because you haven't bothered to become familiar with them. If you have no idea what the candidates stand for, don't confuse the issue by casting a vote. Sit out this election, and make up your mind to know what's going on at the next school election.

It's easy to become acquainted with school personnel. Attend school functions, PTA, even school board meetings. You'll find it interesting. Get acquainted with board members and discuss school matters with them. If you become really familiar with school matters, you won't have any trouble deciding who to vote for next year. And you won't need to be urged to vote. Rain, sleet or snow wouldn't keep you from marking your ballot.

THE PRIMARY ELECTION

Having warmed up on the school election, you can now go to the bigger task of voting in the primary election on Tuesday, April 14.

Voting is pretty much a habit, like smoking or eating eggs with catsup. If your parents always voted, you probably will. However, if you haven't acquired the habit, you can, and pass it on to your children. If it does nothing else for you, it will inspire a little more respect from your children as they grow up, especially when they make their first few attempts to choose candidates.

A lot of people won't vote in primary elections because they have to declare their politics. That is, you must ask for either a Republican or Democratic ballot. If you're a Democrat, and your boss is a Republican, and your job depends on keeping the difference of opinion secret, we can hardly blame you for skipping this one. Otherwise, you might as well admit you have no idea who's running, and forget the whole thing.

You can be sure the professional politicians will know who's running, and will cast their vote. Their job may depend on who's nominated.

It's too bad more people don't vote in primaries, because this decides who shall be the party's candidate in November. A lot of good men get lost in the shuffle of primaries. If you don't know anything about the candidates, though, you might better stay home. Too many people, lost in a welter of names and instructed to vote for one, will mark the most familiar name in the group. This means that the man who has the most money for advertising will win the nomination. He's not necessarily the best man for the job.

Intelligent voting is not just a matter of making an X in just any old box, or asking your precinct committeeman who you should vote for. It means consistently reading political news, which can be pretty boring. However, the more you learn about it, the less boring it is.

We won't make any recommendations in the primary elections. May the better man win, now and in November.

SPEAKING TO YOU Courthouse Notebook

By John Burlend
Director of Social Studies,
Rockford East High School

It is a good idea once in a while to take a look at our economic system and see how it is operating and what makes it tick. There are quite a number of organizations and individuals who make a comfortable living by going about the country warning us that we are about to be swallowed up by creeping socialism and by big government.

That field is so well covered that I am not going to add my voice to the chorus. I want to talk about another threat to the free enterprise system that receives little attention from the professional guardians of the American way.

The theory of the free enterprise system is based on a free market with multiple buyers and sellers. Competition provides low prices, quality production, and first class service. The whole structure breaks down if there is only one seller, or if a few sellers get together and agree on uniform prices.

In the long run it makes little difference who destroys the free market, a Socialist government or a private monopoly. The final end is the same: high prices, lower quality, indifferent services. The American system has not been perfect. In theory everyone has a chance to prove his abilities, and sell his talents. The Negro, the Puerto Rican, the migratory worker may feel that the crop from the eastern prep schools and the natives of the Chicago Gold Coast have an advantage; but the American system has offered a much larger percentage of the population a better chance than any other system. We have no need to apologize. We have not achieved Utopia; we never shall. We have done so well that it is worth fighting to preserve what we have.

I have no quarrel with those who would protect us against the danger of socialism; I wish they would be equally zealous in warning against dangers to the free enterprise system from other directions. It seems to me that some of the people who most loudly proclaim their devotion to the free market are engaged in undermining it.

A few years ago, what Fortune Magazine dubbed the "Great Electrical Conspiracy" made headlines across the country. As you will recall, the officers of some of the electrical supply firms, including General Electric and Westinghouse, pled guilty to a conspiracy to fix prices and divide markets between them.

In passing sentence upon them Federal Judge J. Cullen Ganey said, "This is a shocking indictment of a vast section of the economy for what is really at stake here is the survival of the kind of economy under which this country has grown great, the free enterprise system."

To this, I think, the majority of Americans would say a fervent amen. We would stop buying tickets to football games if we thought that the conference coaches got together before the season opened and agreed that each coach should win his home games. Boxing has lost its standing with the American public because there is deep suspicion that the boys in the know put their money on the lad who will take a dive in the fourth round. In sports, in business we believe in the idea of competition.

It is something of a shock to hear the president of the Allen Bradley Co., one of the defendants in the great conspiracy say, "It is the only way a business can be run. It is free enterprise."

There is something disturbing here. If the president of the Allen Bradley Co. had announced his approval of socialism, he would have been condemned by every professional defender of the American way. Yet his remark indicated just as great an attack upon free competition as socialism. Monopoly by any other name is just as deadly. And Fred Loock lost none of his standing by denouncing the free market.

I am aware that doing business in the face of cut throat competition is unnerving and backbreaking. I am not supposing that preserving the free enterprise system is easy. I am saying that our system will not survive if it is protected only by summer soldiers, or by guardsmen whose eyes are fixed in only one direction.

Moving down to the wire in the April 14 primary races one might say the going is getting a little sticky and that some of the candidates are getting a little "aggressive" in their oratory and tactics.

At the state level the disclosure that Cong. Elmer J. Hoffman was a "ghost pay-roller" under former State Auditor Orville Hodge has done the DuPage County political leader some real harm and his undoubtedly helped his closest opponent, John Meyer, the State Senator from Danville.

Of course this information would have come out later if Hoffman wins the nomination in the Republican primary, but the Democratic nominee, Paul Powell, will find it much more useful if he can quote a Republican source.

This, of course, is the great danger of no-holds-barred primaries. The opposition party can utilize the primary charges more effectively than if they themselves had introduced the issue.

The governor's race for the Republican nomination is also getting more heated and it seems to this corner that Charles Percy is gaining ground because of the campaign excesses being indulged by the supporters of State Treasurer William Scott.

Scott is probably being unfairly charged with responsibility for the pamphlets impugning Percy's patriotism since they were being prepared before he even entered the race, but he was certainly slow in disclaiming any knowledge of them.

The seven man race for Lieutenant-Governor seems to be narrowing down to Warren Wood and John Henry Altgriff at least as far as GOP voters in Lake County are concerned and the contest for Attorney General also seems narrowed to two men, Jack Sperling and Elroy C. Sandquist.

And speaking of these two races, isn't it about time that a change was made in the State Constitution to run the Governor and Lieutenant Governor as a team the same as the President and Vice-President and to make the Attorney General an appointive office?

Certainly the No. 2 man in the government should be of the same party as the governor if only to remove the temptation for hanky-panky if the governor is out of the state.

The Governor should also have the right to appoint the man on whom he must depend for legal advice.

In the race for State Auditor John Kirby seems to be pulling out in front of his seven opponents.

We reported last week that some Republicans were upset more than somewhat because William Rentschler had joined a special committee being set up to handpick candidates for a third party in the State Representative race in the general election next fall.

Apparently the Chicago candy maker gave the matter a second thought because he has now withdrawn from the committee.

It would be nice to say that this column influenced the decision, but Rentschler announced his withdrawal before the item appeared.

Does anyone else have the feeling that State's Attorney Bruno W. Stanczak pushed the "panic button" by calling a special session of the grand jury to investigate gambling in Lake County after one newspaper article reported a couple of "Bing" games operating in the county?

The games can hardly be construed as a wide open syndicate operation and prompt action by the sheriff's office could have led to arrests without a full scale grand jury probe.

It's rather strange how "wide-open" gambling always seems to be discovered by a newspaper or a judge right in the middle of a primary race.

A lot of people thought this coincidence would be a thing of the past once former Circuit Judge Bernard M. Decker was elevated to the Federal bench.

Your Governor Reports
by OTTO KERNER

Thousands of Illinois voters will go to the polls next Tuesday in the primary, with the important task of picking Democratic and Republican candidates for the november election.

A primary might be considered the first installment on an important four-year investment. As such, it deserves the same careful attention that we give the purchase of a new car or a new home. History has shown that if we demand less than the best, we get less than the best. As voters we have the duty to demand the best.

We are all familiar with the "get out the vote" drives around election time—drives which serve a significant and worthwhile purpose by reminding Americans of their basic right and responsibilities. Too many persons, however, make the mistake of adding that it does not matter how they vote, just so they do. It does matter. Careful and intelligent voting can make the difference between good and bad government, between honest and dishonest officials, between efficient and inefficient administration.

There is nothing more discouraging to conscientious public officials than to hear the too-common statement that runs something like this: "It doesn't make any difference who I vote for. These politicians are all alike."

They are not all alike, no more than all salesmen are alike, or all sailors are alike, or all singers are alike. When a person makes that kind of statement, it just means he has not gone to the trouble of finding out the difference. As William Penn once said: "Governments rather depend upon men than men upon governments. Let men be good and the government cannot be bad. . . . though good laws do well, good men do better; for good laws may be abolished by ill men. But good men will never lack good laws nor suffer ill ones."

These good informed public officials depend upon good, informed voters. I hope this includes each of you.

different than you do.

Ann Fox, Antioch — Yes.
Dottie Laurson, 705 Main St., Antioch — Definitely, if they know what they're talking about.

Famed Leader To Conduct Orchestra

Plans are being finalized this week for the personal appearance in Lake County May 6-9 of famed Bell Telephone Hour Conductor Donald Voorhees, according to Hank Schueneman, Illinois Bell community relations manager.

"Mr. Voorhees' principal appearance will be as guest conductor of the Waukegan-Lake County Philharmonic Orchestra and Chorus Saturday night, May 9, at the west campus of Waukegan High School," said Schueneman. "The response to the plans for his trip here has been very enthusiastic."

Schueneman said some elementary, high school and college visits as well as talks before civic groups are on Voorhees' itinerary. He said the conductor will be featured on a "live" Bell Telephone Hour on NBC-TV on Tuesday night, May 5, then fly to Waukegan early the following morning to begin rehearsals with the Philharmonic.

Allen Larson of Waukegan, president of the Philharmonic board of directors, said his group "is honored to have a man of Mr. Voorhees' stature to conduct our final concert of the season. We are truly looking forward to this event."

Larson added that during the intermission of the May 9 program a $500 music scholarship will be awarded to an outstanding music student in the Lake County area.

Alexander MacArthur, Scott's state campaign director, said, "Over half the Republican sheriffs in the state have declared for Bill Scott. The 'Mystery' of Public Relations

New York, (HE)—Public Relations is one of the most publicized but least understood facets of the modern communications industry.

Like the Hollywood version of the newspaper reporter who rushes to the phone to shout "Stop The Presses," the image of the public relations man has been fashioned to an extent in the public mind as a "slick press agent," a hidden persuader, or a devious manipulator of "dummy fronts."

John W. Hill, founder and chairman of Hill and Knowlton, Inc., the world's largest international public relations firm, said the ethical and capable practitioners find themselves winning under the news of some shady or stupid act committed by an irresponsible press agent who poses as a public relations man.

"The truth, unfortunately," he added, "is that among the more than 40,000 people engaged in public relations in America, there are all too many who fall into these categories, just as there are too many potluggers in law and quacks in medicine. Public relations is a relatively new and uninhibited field and anyone, competent or not, can hang up a shingle."

To set the record straight, Hill, whose firm counsels such "Blue Chip" corporations as Procter & Gamble, Gillette, the American Iron and Steel Institute and The Tobacco Institute, wrote "The Making of a Public Relations Man," which has just been published by David McKay.

"The book spans nearly four decades in the growth of the public relations industry and details how this service has become a recognized and constructive force in modern society."

Hill, asserted that one of the major functions of public relations is to help public opinion

Miss Norman J. Brown became the bride of Robert Wertz in a double-ring service at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, March 28, at the Lake Villa Methodist Church.

Miss Brown is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Brown, 567 Highland Ave., Antioch. Mr. Wertz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wertz, Rte. 4, Box 5, Antioch.

The Rev. Virgil Smith officiated at the ceremony. The bride was given away by her father.

The bride wore a traditional gown of white peau de soie and re-embroidered Alencon lace. Appliques of Alencon enhanced the bodice which featured a scoop neckline and short sleeves. The lace was repeated on the controlled skirt which was draped at the sides. A large bow at the bodice back dramatized the bouffant back which flowed into a full chapel train.

Linda Brown, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sharon Dittman, Mary Wertz, sister of the groom, and Mary Day. The bride's attendants wore gowns of sateen with Nile-green Schiffli embroidery on a white bodice. The removable green overskirt converts to a sheath dress with back bow and streamers.

The bride's mother wore a gown of pale pink peau de soie in a sheath style with cowl neckline embroidered with seed pearls with matching jacket and co-ordinated accessories. The mother of the groom wore an aqua sheath with three-quarter length sleeves and applied floral design in the same fabric on the shoulder and skirt. Beige accessories completed her outfit.

Donald Wertz, brother of the groom, was best man. William Carney, Ronald Siemur and James Motley completed the bridal party, with Dale Wayne Weber and Terry Lee Weber, both cousins of the bride, as ushers.

A reception was held at Lorenz's Smart Country House, followed by a honeymoon trip to Wisconsin. The bride and groom are both graduates of Antioch Community High School. The bride attended DePauw University, where she was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. The groom attended Eastern Illinois University where he was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

GET YOUR CHILDREN IMMUNIZED AGAINST MEASLES — NOW!

Parents, beware! Measles epidemic season is here once again.

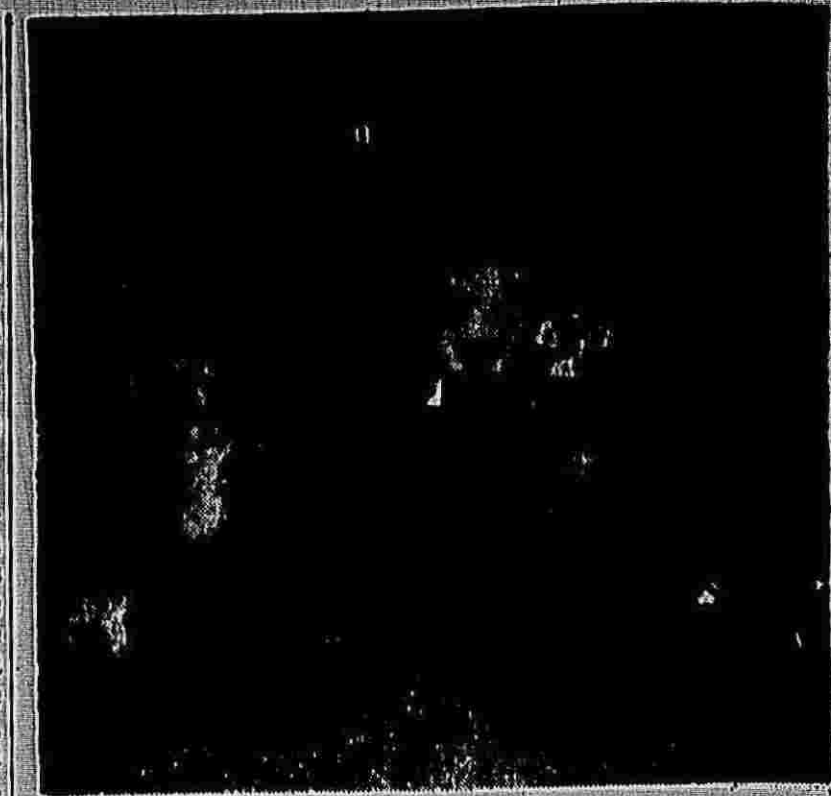

Like most parents, you may regard this common childhood affliction as "harmless," but don't be fooled—measles is the deadliest child killer of all infectious diseases.

The chief danger from measles is that it increases susceptibility to such complications as pneumonia, strep infections and influenza. Perhaps the most dreaded complication is brain inflammation, which may occur three to six days after the appearance of the rash, and which can, in many instances, destroy your child's mental health.

Measles also seems to nullify natural resistance to tuberculosis, and for that reason, is especially dangerous in tuberculous children. Fortunately, these terrifying threats to your child's life and well-being can be easily eliminated—with measles vaccine.

Your doctor now has two measles vaccines—"live" and "killed"—which he may use in three ways to protect your child from the ravages of measles. He may use either type by itself or in combination as the so-called "mixed" vaccine.

Which type of measles vac-

BETTER BABY PICTURES

By John V. Adams

Carl Zeiss Baby Consultant

Ever since babies first were placed on bearskin rugs for photographing, no family picture album has been complete without delightful pictures recording their first

But do pictures of your baby invite adoring oohs and ahs, or merely polite reactions?

In order to take the best pictures of your baby, you'll need a little bit of know-how,

a smattering of patience, and lots of applied psychology.

As far as equipment is concerned, if your camera can take close-up pictures, so much the better. A tripod also comes in handy to eliminate camera movement and free your hands for other things. If you "shoot" without a tripod, be sure to brace your elbows when you "snap" to keep blurs from your finished photos.

Your picture taking area

should be about three feet from a plain background. A solid colored blanket, spread on a low table or bassinet, if baby's very small, will suffice. Since you won't want to unnecessarily involve your child in preliminaries, use a doll as a "stand-in" for all arrangements.

It's best to place your camera about four feet from your youngster. With blanket and camera set, replace the "stand-in" with your loved one and let him begin to play.

Of course, with uncon-controlled activity, your youngster is apt to crawl toward you and the camera, so you'll have to arrange something to keep his interest. For example, you might want to try hand puppets, or his favorite toy placed "on location." Baby also might react well to playing with some colorful small objects, such as a ribbon or a balloon.

There are a few "discovery"

games which bring delightful expressions to baby's eyes. When your child is old enough to handle a book, you might try placing a few brightly colored pieces of ribbon between different pages. As baby comes to a page where a piece of ribbon was hidden, voila! You'll have just the right expression.

A toy, a rattle or a block also can be hidden in the blanket fold or in a rolled sock, for the same effect. In any case, such discovery will reward your patience and result in a fine new contribution for the pages of your family album. And those resultant oohs and ahhs you'll hear from admiring friends and neighbors will be genuine appreciation for adorable baby pictures.

Bowling Tips...

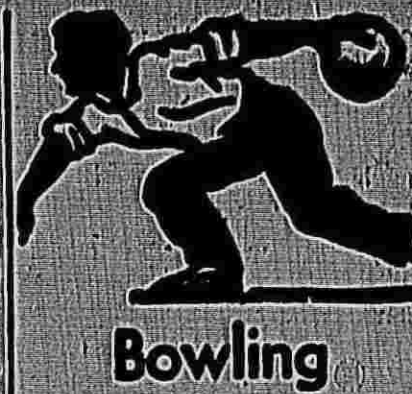

HAND SHOULD END UP READY TO 'SHAKE'

"Howdy" is what you should feel like saying immediately following the release of your ball. Your hand should be in a hand-shake position, as demonstrated by Ray Schanen of Milwaukee, one of the nation's top professional bowlers. Ray says that if you keep your thumb well to the left—or at 9 o'clock on an imaginary clock (inset)—from backing to delivery, you'll roll a natural hook without any conscious twisting effort. Professional bowlers agree that a hook or curve ball is preferred because its spinning action mixes the pins and leaves fewer splits. In a proper delivery, the thumb will leave the ball first. The other fingers, being on the side of the ball, will impart the spin necessary for a hook.

Sequoits Drop First Track Meet 76 to 42

Salem High Ready For Track Season

With one of the youngest track teams in the conference, the performance of Salem Central High athletes in these sports seems uncertain this year.

Salem lost seven track lettermen by graduation last year. Returning lettermen are Dick Pfeuffer (Distance); Don Sundstrom, Pole Vault; Bob Hofer, High Jump; Cal Crumbliss, Distance, Hurdles; Bob Foulke, Dashes; and Don Farm, Distance, Broad Jump.

Salem will be weakest in the dashes, shot, discus and broad jump. It is expected that many sophomores and juniors will get starting assignments.

The track schedule for the '64 season is as follows:

April	21	Horlick A & B	H
	24	Badger A & B	H
	28	Mukwonago	T
May	1	Salem Invitational	H
	5	Waterford A & B	H
	8	Big Foot A & B	H
	13	Antioch A & B	T
	15	Union Grove A & B	T
	19	St. Mary's A & B	H
	22	Conference Meet
		Union Grove
	20	Sectional Track Meet
	June 6	State Track Meet
		The Salem Invitational starts at 4:30 p.m., and the Conference Meet at 6 p.m. All others start at 4:15 p.m.

The Antioch track squad officially opened their 1964 season Monday with a meet against North Chicago on the Hawks' field. The Sequoits didn't fare too well as they lost the meet 76 to 42.

"It was the first time outside for both teams," Coach Roger Andrews said, "and although we didn't stack up too well in the meet scoring, some of the times and distances turned in by our boys are very respectable for this early in the season."

Tom Morgan, Jim Effinger, Tom Tantlinger and Bob Schenk accounted for the only first place finishes for the Sequoits except for the Antioch mile relay team which took first with a time of 3:49. Morgan ran the hundred in 10.7 while Effinger took first in the 880 with 2:11.8 effort.

Sophomore high jumper Bob Schenk went 5' 7" to take first in his event. Bruce Dalgaard ran the 120 yard high hurdles in 16.8 for second place. "All these times will stack up well in our own conference," Andrews said.

"Vince Casella threw the shot put 47' 7 3/4," Andrews said, "and didn't even place at North Chicago. In our own conference," he added, "this is a respectable distance."

Andrews also pointed out Morgan's 23.8 time in the 220. Morgan finished second in the event. Tom Tantlinger placed first in the 440 with a time of 56.1 in spite of trouble with his leg.

The Sequoits will get a chance to improve their showing Monday afternoon when they go to Grayslake

Bolton, 113-156-151—420.

Training Plan Graduates 1st Apprentices

A long-range plan, put into operation a year ago, to halt the growing shortage of metal trades craftsmen is beginning to pay off.

Under the plan, 132 young men from 18 to 24 years old, were given a year of formal training at Chicago's Washburn Trade School before starting apprenticeships as machinists and tool-and-die makers.

The first group of 20 young men graduated on March 20. Seventeen of the graduates are now working, the remaining three are being considered by employers. The second class graduated April 3. Two of the fourteen in the class are already hired.

The course is federally financed under the Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962. The course was developed cooperatively by employers in the metal-working industries and representatives from tool and die unions, the Tool and Die Institute, the State Employment Service and the State Board of Vocational Education.

The first of its kind in the country, the program offers free training and training allowances for some trainees.

"DISEASE IS NOT INCURABLE"

Listeners will learn that disease does not come from God and is no part of His creation. His reality, but is simply part of the false material sense of an existence apart from God — and that therefore disease, any disease, disappears as we turn to our real-life in God and respond to the healing power of His all-embracing love.

Middle Income Group Pay Most Taxes

Of $94 billion received by the Federal government in taxes during fiscal 1962, approximately 84% or $79.2 billion was collected by and from business, the taxpayers' Federation of Illinois noted today. Tax Foundation, Inc., in a recent study, said that the breakdown would be roughly the following:

Corporate Income Tax	$20.5
Soc. Security Taxes	11.5
Fed. Unemployment Tax	.5
Railroad Retirement	.4
Customs	1.0
Withholding Tax
Wages	32.6
Fed. Excise Taxes	12.5
	$79.2

The Federation said that the American businessman deserves praise for acting as the "stand-in" for the Federal government. The businessman is also called upon to serve as tax collector or tax producer in each of approximately 720 other governmental taxing units in the country which now levy taxes on personal income.

The middle income people, under the new tax rate schedules, will, as before, pay the large share of income taxes, the Taxpayers' Federation concluded. This middle income group, making $5,000 to $20,000, is about 58% of the taxpayers and will pay 65.6% of the taxes. Approximately 2.5% will fall in the group making more than $20,000 and will pay 24% of the taxes. Some 40% of taxpayers make less than $5,000 and will pay 10% of the tax take.

Help Teen-Agers Learn From Jobs

URBANA—Jobs give teen-agers an opportunity to grow toward adulthood by teaching them the importance of work and the value of money.

In a new University of Illinois circular, "Your Child and His Money," home economists Mrs. Marguerite Lynch and Marilyn Dunsing give this guide for helping teen-agers benefit from job experiences.

Try to help your teen-ager recognize priorities on his time and energy. The high school boy who works long hours to support a car may have little time or energy left for study, participation in school activities or other social experiences. Encourage your teen-ager to set his own work limits as he talks over his problems with you, his adviser at school or other in whom you both have confidence.

Working for an employer outside the family gives a young person confidence in dealing with other people and some knowledge of what is expected on both sides of the employer-employee situation. If your children are working with you in the farm enterprise, you can still be businesslike. Don't impose on them, and don't let them shirk their tasks. Make definite contracts. Don't just give what you feel like sharing after the corn is sold or the hogs have gone to market. Young people are likely to prefer the most menial of jobs with steady pay to such uncertain prospects.

If your child works away from home during the summer, you might suggest that he vary his jobs. Through vacation work he may find the career that appeals to him.

Some teen-agers have developed successful businesses from their hobbies. Others are cashing in on skills and abilities. Don't take their ideas lightly. If your daughter thinks she can turn her ability to wrap gift packages beautifully into a source of income, encourage her to be businesslike in studying her market, in setting her prices and in advertising her services. Be her consultant in considering the advantages of her venture. If she needs capital, advance money on business terms or help her get a loan.

In determining how much your child should work, think of how he is earning his money, how he is using it and how his work fits into his program of activities. Important as his contribution may be toward balancing the family budget, even more important is developing his attitude of giving his best to his work and finishing the job he has started.

This guide is part of a major section on the use of money by teen-agers in this publication. The circular also has five other major sections: "Stretching the Family's Income," "Where the Money Comes From," "Using Money," "When Your Child Is Small" and "Now He's in School."

For a copy of "Your Child and His Money," Circular 881, published by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture Cooperative Extension Service in Agriculture and Home Economics, see your local home adviser. Or write to the Information Office, 112 Mumford Hall, University of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois. Single copies are free for Illinois residents; 10 cents for out-of-state residents.

Some people don't care how much they pay for something, as long as it's not all at once.

Babcox Cites Past Record

Heading into the final days of the April 14 primary campaign, Lake County Coroner Robert (Mickey) Babcox has stressed his experience and the record he has compiled during his three term tenure in the county post.

Babcox, who was first elected to the office of Coroner in 1962 as the youngest elected official in the history of Lake County, is bidding for his fourth consecutive term. "During our administration we have increased the effectiveness of the office by adding two outstanding pathologists and a former sheriff, Stanley M. Christian, as a special investigator to the Coroner's staff to make the office more effective and more valuable to the people of Lake County," Babcox insists.

In urging support for his candidacy Babcox suggests that voters check his record with law enforcement agencies, family doctors or lawyers, insurance agents and funeral directors.

"These are the people who know the office best," Babcox points out, "and I am confident that they will endorse my record as your coroner for the past 11 years."

(LIMITED TIME OFFER)

There are so many new exciting things about the 1964 electric ranges that they must be seen to be believed. New features described on this page will cook you an idea. And when you cook the modern electric way there's no flame to make dirt, so your kitchen stays clean about twice as long. It stays about 10° cooler too, because only electric ovens are insulated on all 6 sides. Electric surface units clean themselves—pots and pans stay bright and shiny. And electric cooking costs the average family only about 2½ cents a meal.

Here's what you get free
This special limited-time free wiring offer applies to a new electric range of any make or model.
It can help modernize your home wiring and save you a substantial amount of money if your house-power is not up to date. The offer applies to a standard wiring installation for an electric range in any single-family dwelling served by Commonwealth Edison/Public Service Co. Also for a limited time, necessary wiring will be installed free in two- and three-flat apartment dwellings provided an electric range is installed in each apartment. Look for "Little Bill Bargain Buys"

HARDWORKING — EXPERIENCED

(Paid Political Advertisement)

MacGillis States Platform to Voters

Douglas A. MacGillis, Round Lake businessman and mayor, headed into the closing days of his campaign for the Republican nomination for State Senator, 52nd District, on an optimistic note based primarily on his reception by Republican precinct committeemen, political leaders, and office holders in Lake, McHenry and Boone Counties.

Throughout his campaign MacGillis, who also operates two McHenry County farms and serves on the Round Lake Elementary School Board, has stressed the need for stronger legislation to safeguard lakes and streams against pollution, mandatory vocational and technical training for able-bodied relief recipients, and strengthening of "home rule" and local responsibility through a reduction in the number of Federal matching fund programs by the state which now makes up approximately 41% of the state budget.

Lindenhurst News

By Mrs. Bernice Bernau Elliot 6-5649

Women's Club Meeting
The Lindenhurst Women's Club will meet Thursday, April 9, at 8 p.m. at the Civic Center on Old Elm Road.

Mrs. Millie Call, chairman of the annual card party, asks members to bring packaged products such as cereals, paper towels, sugar, flour, etc. for the grocery baskets. The party will be held May 21 in the evening.

Mrs. Esther Sokup's Brownie Troop 269 and Mrs. Betty Wells' Troop 173 will present the program. It should be very entertaining.

The club is having its annual Membership Tea on Thursday, April 10, at 7:30 p.m. Special invitations have been sent to new residents of the village, but all residents are invited to attend. This will be a good opportunity to meet and get acquainted with your neighbors. The club's officers and chairmen will be introduced and the things the club has done will be told. Past presidents have been invited to pour. Mrs. Raymond Parfian is the present president.

Pancake Breakfast and Registration Day
The annual Pancake Breakfast and Registration for the Little League will be held Sunday, April 12 at the VFW Post on Grand Avenue in Lake Villa from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. All residents of the community are invited to attend and enjoy a delicious breakfast of hot cakes and Sausages, as well as registering the boys for the baseball program.

The registration fee for Little League is $3.00, and $5.00 for the Pony League. Wins Blue Ribbon

Mrs. Mary Shore's son, John, Lake Villa, entered three art objects in the Lake County Town and Country Art Show, sponsored by the Agricultural and Home Economics Extension of the University of Illinois at the County Fair grounds last week.

Two of his entries were wood carvings, titled "The Hawaiian Eye" and "The Tall Man." His printing of a page from the Gutenberg Bible, with flowers and birds, earned him a blue ribbon and the opportunity to exhibit it in the Illinois Town and Country Show.

Baby Shower
Mrs. Bert Harceg was guest of honor last Friday evening when she entertained her canasta club, "The Night Owls." The ladies all sang "Happy Birthday" to Betty Janega who was celebrating her birthday that day. The ladies then brought out a shopping bag of articles for the baby the Harcegs are expecting.

Card Party
The Altar and Rosary Society of Prince of Peace Church is sponsoring a card party Wednesday, April 15, in the church hall, starting at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

Entertains Club
Mrs. Lu Stanley was hostess for her pinochle club last Wednesday evening. Marge Campbell won a fluffy white kitten concealing a bottle of perfume.

Grandmothers Club
Eight members of the Grandmothers Club met at the home of Mrs. Zenia Neumann last Wednesday. Marge Campbell received a beautifully wrapped box, void of any gift, just the words "April Fool!" To make up for the April Fool gag, Zenia gave her a clutch purse.

Anniversaries
Several of our neighbors are having anniversaries this week, or had them last week. Al and Minnie Hart celebrated 21 years April 3. Bill and Helen Guzik, 16 years also on the 3rd. Gene and Edna Johnson, 32 years on the 6th. The John Warchals, 19 years on the 12th. Bob and Barbara Hendrickson 11 years on the 11th. Eleven years also for Bob and Pat Schartz on the 11th. Six years for Ron and Kay Neuman on the 12th.
